

WAY STUDIO PRICELIST

When you work with a professional podcast and video production company it can save you time, frustration and ensures that you focus on the content of your podcast.

When we try to figure out everything ourselves it may seem tempting but it can lead to pitfalls that will affect the overall quality of your podcast.

With Way Studio we offer the following services:

- On-Site Recording – if you need to record at a specific location. We come to you.
- Podcast Equipment – all the gear you will need to record solo or up to 6 guests.
- Remote Recording – our engineer will assist you with setting up remote recording.
- Audio Editing – post production audio editing for both basic and advanced projects.
- Video Editing – if you need multiple video cameras or basic video call, we can help.
- Content Consulting – whenever you need help with content production and strategy our content strategist are here to help.
- Audio & Video Soundbites – short form content is here to stay, we will make sure we make the most of it by editing for social media pointing to your long form podcast.
